An Important Matter to all.

There is nothing in the whole equipment of a farmer or the outfit of anyone who drives horses which needs so much careful consideration as does harness. Faulty harness often results in broken limbs, sometimes loss of life, smashed buggies and nearly always an injured horse.

You can only rely upon your harness being sound when you deal with a man who has had a long experience in selecting and buying his stock. We have bought harness for years but have never bought a better line than the one which has just arrived.

THE BOW ISLAND TRADING COMPANY.

Town Council.

Held on Thursday, November 22nd, in the Secretary's office, Present: Mayor Duhame, Councillors Harburt, Robertson, Branton, Cotton and Werts. A letter was received from the Bow Island Trading Co., stating that the provisions of the Fire Bylaw would be complied with relative to the building removed from next their store to another part of Main Street.

The Board, however, was requested to inform the company that the Council could not comply with their request at present. The Flood Land Co., Regina, wrote asking for an option on debentures, and offered $33,125, at the same time stating that they would defray the expense of Solicitors' fees, etc.

P. E. Ludtke applied for permit to erect an addition to his present store located on Lot 4, block B also a warehouse on lots 2 and 4, block 13.

The application was granted subject to the provisions of the Fire Bylaw being complied with. The Mayor introduced the question of making a grant to the Board of Trade and land, and after some discussion it was decided to grant a sum of $250 to the Board of Trade, subject to the Board donating not less than $100 to the land.

The public works committee was instructed to make necessary alterations to Secretary's office.

The fire, water and light committee was instructed to look into the water of fire protection.

The meeting then adjourned.

Hospital to Secure Grant of Land.

Through a letter received in town this week from Dr. Bach, Minister of the Interior, we learn that negotiations are now under way having for their object the granting of four or five acres of land by the Dominion government to the town of Bow Island for hospital purposes.

This land is situated directly west and adjoins the present limits of the municipality. The grant of forty acres made to Bow Island for a public park some time ago lies on the north, and is part of the same quarter-section.

The application of this land by the Hospital Board will be important from the fact that it is not only adjacent to the town, but is in very close proximity to the depot, an item that will be much appreciated by those who have to be brought in by railway.

It is only right perhaps to add that Mr. C. A. Macdonald, who was instrumental in securing for Bow Island its public park, also interested himself in this latest addition, and to him our cordial thanks must be extended.

Extra Train Crew for Bow Island.

For some time past the C.P.R. has been compelled, owing to the enormous amount of traffic passing along the Crow's Nest Branch, to keep a "pusher" engine and crew constantly at Bow Island. During the past week another "pusher" was added, together with an extra crew, to provide accommodation for those three arriving at the end of last week a suitable building which will be placed alongside the track near the depot.

The location of these engine crews at Bow Island would seem to indicate that the C.P.R. contemplate some important development at this point, possibly a round-house. The presence of a number of surveyors here a couple of weeks ago was in all probability due to this new change.

Stamps for Burdett Disappear.

J. S. Macdonald of the Advertiser Market, has been placed under arrest upon suspicion of stealing registered packages from the Market post-office. The first article to disappear was a package which contained a number of registered letters for Calgary. Many of these were addressed to the Bank of Montreal and had enclosed in them deposits from various postmasters along the Crow's Nest. The second article was a registered bag containing postage stamps which was being sent from the Calgary postoffice to the postmaster at Burdett.

A Pleasant Evening.

The Thanksgiving supper held in the L.O.O.P. hall on Thursday evening of last week (American Thanksgiving Day) was one of the most largely attended and one of the most enjoyable held in Bow Island. The dainty and appetizing food, the aid and cheerful appearance of the table, and the quick and careful attention in conveyed to one's mind the impression that some very able mind had been at work in preparing the supper. The programme which followed after was not what lay behind in the excitement and variety and from the number of scores given the audience were immensely pleased with the various items. In speaking of the evening generally, one can only say that the greatest credit is due all those that took part either in the arrangement and preparation of the supper or in the performance of the vocal and instrumental items of which the crowd were above anything that was usually the case in a public function of this kind.

The following was the programme:—

The Height of Meanness

The record for meanness is held by a certain churchwarden in the south of England. He owns several cottages, which he lets for £2 a week, and he has often threatened to turn the occupants out if they owe a week's rent. One old man who had been his tenant for many years, was unfortunately taken ill, and was unable to work for some long time. The churchwarden, who was a miser, refused to let him have any more of his rent, and when the landlord called to him, told him that he could not pay anything that morning. The churchwarden said he was sorry for him, but he would not let him stay and see if he could get a donation from the parson, to which the old man replied: "Thank you, sir, it is very kind of you."

Well, I have managed to get you £2 from the parson, he said, on calling the next day.

Thank you, sir, was the grateful response. Where's your rent book? continued the churchwarden, and on its production, he wrote the two weeks' arrears of rent as paid, but the £2, he had given the tenant last night, he took from the book, and he said: "I have managed to get you £2 from the parson, he said, on calling the next day."

As the Sunday school teacher entered her classroom, she saw a young boy sitting in the front row. He was a small, thin boy, and he was looking at her with a sad expression. She went over to him and asked him what was the matter. He told her that his mother was sick, and he was afraid to go to school. She told him that he must go to school, and she would take care of him.

She told him that he must go to school, and she would take care of him.

She told him that he must go to school, and she would take care of him.

The Educated Woman

She is versed in Greek and Latin, she can quote from Shakespeare, and she has studied all the poets, and she has a great knowledge of the sciences.

She has travelled over Europe, she knows the planets and the stars, and she can write intelligently on the questions of the day.

On higher criticism she can talk with logic true, but she is not above the humble tasks her hands may find to do.

And yet she never forgets that she is a woman, and she has a heart that beats for the things that are true and good.

Her children know a mother's care, a gentle woman's ways.

No nurse is hired to care for them while she attends the plays.

When she is tired, she will sit down and rest, and she will not let her children know that she is tired.

On one occasion, when a public reception was given to Mr. Gladstone, a particularly obsequious old gentleman was introduced to him, and forthwith he began to talk to him.

He was talking to him, and he was talking to him, and he was talking to him, and he was talking to him, and he was talking to him.

He was talking to him, and he was talking to him, and he was talking to him, and he was talking to him, and he was talking to him.

He was talking to him, and he was talking to him, and he was talking to him, and he was talking to him, and he was talking to him.

He was talking to him, and he was talking to him, and he was talking to him, and he was talking to him, and he was talking to him.

He was talking to him, and he was talking to him, and he was talking to him, and he was talking to him, and he was talking to him.

He was talking to him, and he was talking to him, and he was talking to him, and he was talking to him, and he was talking to him.

He was talking to him, and he was talking to him, and he was talking to him, and he was talking to him, and he was talking to him.

ONLY ONE WAY TO CURE RHEUMATISM

It Must Be Treated Through the Blood and the Poisonous Acid Driven Out

The twinges and tortures of rheumatism are not due to cold wet weather as so many persons suppose; Rheumatism comes from poisonous acid in the blood.

There is only one way to cure rheumatism—it must be treated through the blood. All the latest scientific rubbing and so-called electric treatment in the world will not cure rheumatism, and the sufferer wastes time that is not only wasting money, but is also wasting health.

It is a matter of fact that in my experience, the only way to cure rheumatism is by driving out the poisonous acid which causes rheumatism. This is done by the use of the "Blood Purifier."

Deceiving Poor Polly

The day every have a sailor son, who on many occasions brought home a parcel for the amusement and entertainment of the family. They kept it for the sake of the door, or no other account would it have been given house room. Of course, it was perfectly respectable—occasionally, but on Sunday evening, when young Mr. Saitney paid his regular visit, it was deemed advisable to give Polly with a cloth.

It is interesting to note that the Dominion Government fully realizes and appreciates the value of the Royal North-West Mounted Police. This splendid body of men is unique in the west that it has to undertake, and the privations and hardships which its individual members have to undergo from time to time in the performance of their duties are surely being recognized. Whilst the pay of almost every other profession and calling has been largely increased during the past few years, the salaries of the R.N.W.M.P. have remained practically stationary. To every law-abiding resident of these prairie provinces the appearance of these mounted police is always welcomed, and this recognition, albeit somewhat tardy, by the Dominion Government will surely be more readily recognized and favored than by the lonely homesteader.

Conduction Day for Bow Island proved a very quiet one. The interest displayed, whilst not altogether lively, was nevertheless sufficient to bring forth an adequate number of people willing to allow their names to be placed upon the nomination paper. Of these six, one unfortunately was disqualified by reason of his not being able to comply with the necessary qualifications.

The five left in the field comprise some good material. However, as there are only four vacancies an election will have to be proceeded with to determine the result, and the ratepayers will be given the opportunity on Monday next of recording their choice.

The next year will certainly be a most important one for Bow Island, and it is all probability will introduce another and more progressive stage in our onward march. For this reason the election on Monday will assume a great deal of local interest. From now on, the work of the Town Council will consist of greater improvements, entailing the expenditure of greater sums of money, and will require keen business heads to manipulate that expenditure to the best advantage. Ratepayers should take cognizance of these facts and vote accordingly.

An announcement of great importance to western farmers was made by Hon. W. T. White in the house this week at Ottawa, when he declared that when the Bank Act was introduced provision would be made to allow banks to loan money on both grain and live stock. For several years western agricultural organizations have been carrying on an agitation for these amendments to the Act and the announcement means that the government recognizes the justice of the western plea.

At present section 58 of the Bank Act authorizes a bank to lend money to a purchaser or shipper of or dealer in agricultural products on the security of those products no matter what the quantity may be or where stored, but it does not authorize the bank to lend money to the farmer on his threshed grain or his live stock. In other words after grain or live stock reached a warehouse money could be secured on it as a security, but not before.

It is claimed that if a farmer is allowed to secure loans in the fall on his wheat, he will not need to spend his time in marketing his grain, and can devote his time to plowing. A vital necessity to western agriculturalists. With farmers enabled to secure loans on their grain there will no longer be any necessity for their crop to market in order to meet pressing liabilities. They will be encouraged to farmers to store their grain, which will tend to prevent the annual congestion.

The people of Medicine Hat and Southern Alberta need have no concern as to what attitude the Government of Alberta will take in the matter of allowing the piping of natural gas from the fields here to points outside of the province. The company being promoted by Mr. Gougeon of Calgary and others, having for its object the distribution of gas to Winnipeg and intervening cities and thus operating outside of this province, will doubtless secure a Dominion charter. Whether the Provincial Government would be able to override the authority given by a Dominion charter and prevent that company from proceeding or tampering under the provincial road allowance is a matter of mere conjecture. Railway-borne Dominion charters do not seem to have any difficulty in obtaining provincial road allowances. But if such should be the case, or if there should be any other hold the Provincial Government can get on the proposed operations of the company, the people of this city and gas will not be disappointed. With assurances that both the Federal Government and the provincial authorities will protect their interests, our people can surely sleep peacefully with full confidence that their fuel and light supply will not be taken from them by the company which hopes to do so on any other that may develop similar hopes.

Big Game Shooting near Edmonton

Edmonton, Alta., Dec. 5. Charles Deady and Henry Adair of Edmonton, brought the first bull moose of the season to this city yesterday. They "bagged" two big animals near Athabasca, 100 miles north of here, after a fight. Deady brought his moose down with a shoulder shot, but on approaching to give the death thrust with a sheath-knife the animal sprang to its feet and attacked the man. After mixing furiously for several minutes, Adair drew a bullet into the moose's brain and ended the battle. Later Deady was successful with a long shot at another moose. The hunters refused offers of substantial rewards for the heads, which are well formed and carry widely-spaced antlers. They report big game plentiful in the north country.

Mixed Farming Would Lower the Cost of Living on the Necessaries of Life

The Canadian Farm is a recent article makes a strong plea for mixed farming in the three Western provinces when it points out that the cost of living can be decreased by its adoption. The article is in part as follows:

No country in the world should be able to produce better and cheaper meats than those grain-growing provinces. Poultry of all kinds do well and thrive on the waste of many farms where they are kept while milk and butter and cheese should be yielded in sufficient quantities to at least meet the local demands. Last year Manitoba alone exported upwards of $100,000 bushels of feed wheat besides a very large quantity of barley, which she imported more pork and mutton than she raised, and for months last winter Winnipeg imported milk from Minnesota. It is not because of difficulty in raising these products nor of the want of a good market for them that so few enter upon mixed farming. Nor is there a fear that the soil would be injured by taking up these branches of agriculture. Evidence from every hand points to the fact that with wheat abundant yields are secured and a surplus of animal products developed. Last year the Canadian Cereal Commission had surveyed made of 6,000 acres of Manitoba lands, and learned from the results that the average yield of wheat was 30 bushels per acre, while the yield of mixed farming was 40 bushels per acre, which the farmer objected, saying that he had purchased the same style and make of wagon many years before for $60. The dealer explained that the advance in the price was due to higher cost of material's etc., but the farmer was not convinced. After a lengthy argument it developed that the farmer ten years before had paid for his high priced wagon 500 bushels of corn; corn at that time bringing 10 cents per bushel. "I will tell you what I will do," said the dealer. "You give me 500 bushels of corn, this 14 wagon and I will make you a present of the best reaper in my stock, your choice of surreys, and you can bring your wife down and I will make her a present of the best kitchen range I have in the place, and will fit her kitchen up complete with new sink and cooking utensils. Is it a bargain?" It wasn't.

POULTRY METHODS

Below we give the record of a set of Blue White Orpingtons belonging to Mr. Frank Smith, a New Brunswick farmer, who conscientiously endeavored to produce the best result possible from his small flock. The record established do not furnish anything especially remarkable, but the account is interesting. If for no other reason than that such pullets were named, and the owner has been able to give the time each commenced to lay and the number of eggs laid up to a state time. Mr. Smith states that at the time 20 to 24 degrees below zero. In January he received 97 eggs from the five oldest. Following is the interesting record:

	At 1 yr. old.	At 1 yr. 7 m.
Queen	65	100

AN ANECDOTE ON THE COST OF LIVING

The high prices exacted by the farmer at present for his produce are brought prominently to the front by the following anecdote from an American exchange:

"A Kansas farmer, so the story goes, came into town to buy a new wagon. The dealer made a price of $70, which the farmer objected, saying that he had purchased the same style and make of wagon many years before for $60. The dealer explained that the advance in the price was due to higher cost of material's etc., but the farmer was not convinced. After a lengthy argument it developed that the farmer ten years before had paid for his high priced wagon 500 bushels of corn; corn at that time bringing 10 cents per bushel. "I will tell you what I will do," said the dealer. "You give me 500 bushels of corn, this 14 wagon and I will make you a present of the best reaper in my stock, your choice of surreys, and you can bring your wife down and I will make her a present of the best kitchen range I have in the place, and will fit her kitchen up complete with new sink and cooking utensils. Is it a bargain?" It wasn't.

No Danger of War

Edmonton, Alta., Dec. 4.—There is not the slightest danger of war between Germany and Great Britain. We are closer today than ever. I have no patience with the war goblins of a British-Germanic embargo. It can not be in this age.

Herr Webber, court councillor of Leipzig, Germany, and owner and publisher of the Illustrated Zeitung, said this here today in announcing that a hundred prominent bankers, manufacturers and merchants will visit Edmonton next June on a tour of western Canada.

"At home and abroad I am an advocate of an international comity that makes for business development," Herr Webber added, "and I believe that Canada can be made a link for uniting Great Britain and Germany more closely in friendship. Canada has many claims."

"I believe that Germany could profitably share with Great Britain and Canada in the development of the country. There are vast opportunities for German manufacturers, owing to the youth of the dominion and the rapid development of the coast and prairie provinces and the opening of the Peace River country to the north."

"The party of German business men coming to the Canadian West next summer is prepared to invest several millions of dollars in new enterprises and some of this money undoubtedly will find its way into Edmonton. The people here improve me as being dull, progressive and enterprising. They have faith in their city and the fullest confidence in the country. Nothing can stop the progress now."

Edmonton, Alta., Dec. 4.—Hon. Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture for Alberta, has placed an order with a firm in Montreal for a thousand pure-bred Barred Plymouth Rocks, Rhode Island Reds, Buff Orpingtons and White Wyandottes for delivery early next spring to the provincial poultry farm in Edmonton.

The birds are solely for breeding purposes. Stock and eggs will be delivered to farmers and poultry growers direct from the experimental farms in various parts of the province. It is expected that several thousand high-grade birds will be added to the flocks during the coming year. Mr. Marshall believes the best way to encourage the industry is to assist the farmers.

Well, he goes to bed, and falls asleep, and asks him how he liked his professional football.

No, he replied, not well enough that.

But why? asked the reporter.

Because they're ladies, said he, and ladies don't like to play football.
